ABOUT CBA

The Church Benefits Association (CBA), is a voluntary membership organization of approximately 50 church pension boards, religious orders and denominational benefits programs for clergy and church professionals.

CBA began as a yearly conference in 1915. In its more than one-hundred-year history, it has grown from just a meeting to an association with activities in all areas of church benefits.

One of the main activities of the CBA is its Annual Meeting. The Annual Meeting is a forum for the dissemination, study and discussion of information relating to the efficiency of operating and administrating church employee benefits programs.

The CBA is dedicated to promoting excellence and preserving the traditions of church benefit boards and church benefit plans through nonpartisan education, collaboration, and fellowship.
